Respectfully, your friends, A. J. McWILLIAMS, M. D., C. W. LAYTON, C. HUGHEY.

FULTON, MISS., Dec. 24th, 1860. GENTLEMEN: - The political position referred to in your kind note of this date, is here sel without steam, which, in the prevailing placed at your disposal. The plan is given weather, would just be able to take care of with but few of the arguments used by me to herself without troubling others. sustain it. It is in substance-I think submission to the aggressions of the "Black Republican party" ruinous; and the prest method that could be adopted to destroy the Union. Our submission to past and the course ready to put to sea. Nothing easier than to embark a battalion from the fortress sent unconstitutional measures, and legis- close by, steam to Charleston, and, if unable ion destructive of Southern interests and to lighten the ship so as to pass over the bar institutions, would only invite further usurpa-tions, and give an impetuto the "Irrepressi-ble conflict," which word in few years drive us out of the Union in defence of our lives and property. We cannot have peace or troops on board for that purpose. There are property in the Union, or even remain there, no better artillerymen than men-of war's divided as we now are, and have for years men, as was proved at Sebastopol, where the been. As I love this Union, I hate submission, for it tends to its destruction. I also oppose the secession of Mississippi, or the secession of the Cotton States, under existing circumstances. While I admit the right of a State to secede, I oppose the policy, for the following and many other reasons: 1st. We claim that we are entitled to the protection of our slave property in all the Territories belonging to the Federal Governent, and want this protection in the common domain. It cannot be contended that a ferritory has the right of secession from the Union. It cannot resume its sovereignty, for it never had any. It is like an unborn child, It has its existence alone through the mother.

A Revolution is the only means by which it could be absolved from the Federal Government. I am unwilling to aveade leaving the ment. I am unwilling to secode leaving the Territories in the hands of our enemies, or to impose on them Revolution and claim for our ives peaceable secession. If we are compelled to "scuttle the ship and take to the lifeoat," let us not leave our children on board, for we have ample accommodation and are able to take them with us on equal terms and 2d. We would have no outlet for our slaves, with their rapid increase and the impossibility of their extension, they would at no distant day become valueless, the country appropriated to their labor would not maintain them. By the secession of 'the cotton States alone, and the abandonment of the Territories, we ready. Mexico is found not adapted to the fuctions, in the growth of which alone, less a feature of that happy evening to be reve labor is found profitable.

The States of Virginia, North Carolina, Tennessee, Kentucky and Missouri believe the political differences between the North and South can be smicably settled, and for that tial vows were breathed—the holy man had reason would not now join us in any seces-sionary movement. Alabama, Florida, Lou-ness, the congratulations were over, and supisiana and Texas, are all that would probably join us in such movements. This would give us a small, and from its shape, very much executions as the congratulations were over, and support was announced. The sumptious beard was magnificent, and the epicure found there everything to please his refined taste. The Divided, we would be weak, and no longer able to enforce the Monroe doctrine o non-interference of European powers with the political condition of any country on this nent." Hence they would be able to obtain the long desired Protectorate over Mex co and the South American provinces. And having one common interest-the destruction of this Government-it is most probable that in the end of the fraternal contest, like Poand, Hungary and Greece, we would be divided out to pay the expenses of the war. Or they could then dictate to us a form of overnment, give us a King, and remove from secession of the cotton States under existing circumstances. My policy then is-The Constitution of ssippi should define her rights in the Federal Government, and declare she will have them and nothing less. Then recom-mend a Convention of all the Southern States o be holden at an early day, and recommend that Delegates be elected by the people, in the same ratio and from the same districts that they are represented in the popular branch of Congress, provide for the election of her own egates, then let the Convention adjourn, to neet on its own orders, so that it may re-a semble on the happening of any necessary con-tingency. The election of delegates should be by the people, they would by this means gain information, and keep the subject con-stantly before them, which they greatly need. If the State Conventions went beyond, or fell short of the wishes of the people, the error would be corrected in the subsequent election Let the South then be thoroughly canvassed by candidates for the Southern Convention .hen the Southern Convention assembles, le it declare the rights of the South in the Federal Government, and what they will have and nothing less, naming the obnoxious laws of the Northern States, the repeal of which, ection of slave property in the Territories, or the extension of some physical line that will forever settle that question, as essential prerequisites to a longer continuance in the possible, the delegates to be elected by the sople in the same manner, as those to the Southern Convention. This will bring the whole subject before the whole of the United States, and if there are conservative nationa known by the election of sound national men to the National Convention; if there is not enough such men, the sooner it is known the

When the National Convention assembles let it settle these questions if possible, lay down a programme for the administration of the Government, and recommend to the propin this Convention the questions cannot be settled, it will then be evident to all that a disruption of the government is inevitable .-Then let the Convention recommend a peace our Southern sister States seeing no hope of the preservation of the Union, will join us in any movement for a Southern Confederacy.— So will the Northwestern States, the granaries that feed the cotton-growing region link The Territories will join us in the Revolution; so will the district of Columbia, and perhaps the State of New York. We will then have a powerful confederacy, and not more than twelve or thirteen Black Republican States will be left out of the Union, which would soon be anxious to repeal all obnoxious laws and seek a Union with us on terms of equality. tributor of New York Herald furnishes the following: The pressure which has been attempted on the President through the medium of the Charleston forts is no great matter after all, if the facts of the case be faced fairly. The two works which are designed to command the entrance of the harbor are Forts Moultrie and Sumter. The latter is the larger of the two, with three tiers of guns, surrounded entirely by water, too shoal for heavy ships to approach, and yet sufficient to prevent the use of bat-

subject to its fire for a time, Fort Moultrie, however, though inferior in size, does probably interdict the Maffit channel entirely, and has a better view of the main ship channel, which it enfillades at long range on the northern lead, but still cannot prevent the passage of vessels. Unlike Fort Sumpter it is open to approaches by land, for which the sand supplies the best defence against shells. The work is designed for a garrison of one hundred men in war, and in peace was to be kept by half a company. It is, therefore, nearly provided with its war garrison at the present time. Indeed, in view of the means that the State could bring to bear, it is sufficiently manned, and the President is altogether right in refusing to reinforce the garrison, when by so doing he might precipitate the action of State without adding materially to the security of the fort. As a professional thing ship channel, which it enfilades at long range the commandant was right in asking the sup-ply of any deficiency, but he will deserve to be cashiered if he does not maintain the post long enough to receive relief should the President decide to send it, even after hearing of a positive attack. On the other hand, should the State seize Fort Sumpter, it will be of no avail in case the Government insist on collecting the revenue. It seems to me that in thus regarding the case the President has shown nore judgment of its true points and more nerve than many of his would-be counsellors n facing the issue. As for Castle Pinckney, that is out of the question, unless it was in-tended to reduce the city, which no one dreams of, while Fort Johnston is equally immaterial,

NASHVILLE FEMALE ACADEMY After a rest of vix months, on the 19th of January 1861, I resume my position as Principal of this In aitution, with which I have been cons among which, we think are be following:

1. A well enclosed yard of about 6 mrss, within the incorporated limits of Nashville, thus affording Papils unrestained freedom in health in recreation and still subjecting them to the restraints of a re-fined and intelligent society.

2. Buildings in extent and suitableness, for all school purposes, unequalied in the United States by any Female School; and those surrounded by payements and carridors, offering constant induce-ments to children, to breathe the fresh air, without regard to the weather.

3. Security from Fire. These bulldings are bented with steam and lighted by gas, and thus free the parents of our pupils from at least one source of constant anxiety about their children.

4. Health—unequiltal in any Female School, in this or any other county. Though one of the largest, and a part of the time the largest, Boarding School in the United States, yet but three deaths have occurred among its pupils is nearly 45 years 5. Non-Sectorian. It is well known to all an quainted with the Academy, that a Baptist, Episcopalian, Methodist, or Presbyterian, sends his Daugh ter here, perfectly satisfied, that in no respect wil offence be giving to his premiur views, and yet equally satisfied that the principles of our common religion will be daily inculcated. figion will be daily inculcated.

6. Maternal Cure. This expression expites expectation which is not fully mot in the Academy.
A suitable number of ladiei, of piety and refinement, devote their entire time to the supervision f the expenses, the morals, habits and health of seeking a permanent educational home for little girls, will, we think, find such a home in the Aca-Rifle Infantry, and Cavalry Tactics.
